

Press Release – May 1, 2004

Source: Midtown Consulting Group, Inc.

MidTown Consulting Group Opens Doors to Atlanta

New management consulting firm to move into ATDC space in thriving Midtown section of Atlanta.

Atlanta, GA – MidTown Consulting Group, a management consulting firm serving clients in the southeast United States, announces that they are open for business. With a combined thirty-five years of business experience, the MidTown Consulting Group founders are implementing an innovative business model that delivers high-value consulting services to mid-market and Fortune 500 companies. The company also announces the opening of their office in Midtown Atlanta.

Bill Falconer, CEO of MidTown Consulting Group, says, “We are very excited to introduce the firm to the southeastern market, and we are energized by our location at the heart of technology and business innovation in Atlanta. The energy and entrepreneurial spirit in Midtown is exciting for Atlanta and for our business. Our choice in location represents MidTown’s commitment to innovation and pragmatic problem solving.”

MidTown Consulting Group offers consulting in three distinct service areas: sustainable top-line growth, operational efficiency, and technology advisement. The team at MidTown Consulting has an average of 18 years of experience delivering consulting solutions to mid-market and Fortune 500 companies across a broad spectrum of industries.

Jeff Elam, President of MidTown Consulting Group, states, “Our goal is to provide clients with a high return for their investment in our consulting services. The entire team at MidTown is focused on delivering quality results to our customers. We have a deep belief that innovative consulting services can drive results for business, and we focus intensely on delivering these solutions.”

To learn more about MidTown Consulting Group, visit the website at www.midtowncg.com. Please direct all press inquiries to Scott Stark at sstark@midtowncg.com.